You have the right to receive a Good Faith Estimate explaining how much your dental care will cost.

Under federal law, health care providers must give patients who do not have insurance, or who are not using insurance, an estimate of the bill for items and services. This applies if you do not have dental insurance or choose not to use it for your care.

- You have the right to receive a Good Faith Estimate of the total expected cost of any non-emergency items or services, including related costs such as laboratory fees.
- Make sure your provider gives you a Good Faith Estimate in writing at least 1 business day before your service or item. You can also ask for one before you schedule.
- When you schedule care at least 3 business days ahead, we will give you a Good Faith Estimate within 1 business day (or within 3 business days if your visit is 10 or more business days away). If you ask for an estimate without scheduling, we will give it to you within 3 business days.
- If you receive a bill that is at least $400 more than your Good Faith Estimate, you can dispute the bill.
- Make sure to save a copy or picture of your Good Faith Estimate.
